UK-made weapons are complicit in war crimes in Yemen.

Seven years of brutal conflict have created one of the world's worst humanitarian crises.

UK rules are being broken: The government has sold billions worth of weapons to Saudi Arabia despite knowing war crimes have been committed in Yemen. They are prioritising profit over lives.

Who's making the weapons? Companies such as BAE Systems, MBDA, Rolls Royce, Raytheon, Leonardo, Thales, Airbus pocket billions from making these weapons and their offices and factories are near you!

What are we doing about it? In January 2023, CAAT is taking the government back to court over these arms deals. We've stopped them before, we can stop them again!
